The history of Strandhotel Westduin

1926

The origins of Strandhotel Westduin lie in a simple roadside inn located in an old wooden farmhouse beneath the dunes along the Galgenweg. In 1926, the Huvers-Hille couple began selling coffee, tea, lemonade, pickled eggs, and stroopwafels here.

1965

Over the years, it developed into a true hospitality business, and the building underwent several major renovations. By 1965, it was known as 'Café-Pension-Restaurant Westduin'. Thanks to the rise of tourism, the plans could be continuously expanded.

1984

In March 1983, the hotel's official name was announced: Westduin Budget Hotel. Director Eef Izeboud and manager Robbert-Jan Hanemaaijer were able to open the doors of the Westduin Budget Hotel on Friday, June 1, 1984.
